

Legal Recruitment

Division of State Counsel
Litigation Bureau – Albany or New York City
Special Litigation Counsel
Reference No. LIT_SLC_3721

Application Deadline is October 18, 2024

The Office of the New York State Attorney General (OAG) is seeking a highly motivated and experienced litigator to serve as a Special Litigation Counsel, with a primary focus on defending the Office of Cannabis Management, the Cannabis Control Board, and their respective officers and employees in civil actions and proceedings brought in New York federal and state courts. The selected candidate will join a team of attorneys who represent and defend the State of New York and its agencies, officials, and employees in federal and state courts in civil actions and proceedings involving civil rights, education, social services, public employment, public health, law enforcement, corrections, state finance, insurance, taxation, and other litigation matters arising out of state legislation, regulations, and operations.

The Special Litigation Counsel will develop an expertise on a defined set of issues related to cannabis law. In that context, the Special Litigation Counsel will work across divisions within the OAG to ensure a consistent approach in similar matters, engage in, co-litigate, and coordinate defensive litigation; monitor important litigation within New York and nationwide; stay abreast of relevant legal developments; act as a liaison with other states facing similar cannabis litigation; and partner with the OAG's policy team to review, monitor, and comment on legislative proposals and policy initiatives. This position will be seated in the Litigation Bureau in either Albany or New York City and report to the Bureau Chief. Frequent travel within New York State is required.

Duties:

- Serving as lead attorney on significant and/or complex civil litigation from complaint through trial;
- Drafting and editing written work product;
